Get help paying for Truvada for PrEP

Most insurance (including Medicaid) DOES cover PrEP but you will have to call your insurance company to find out details of co-pays and deductibles. Some insurance requires mail order delivery of meds too. Talk to your healthcare provider too about ways to afford PrEP.

If you have insurance:

1- The Gilead Co-pay Coupon Card may be able to help you save on your Truvada for PrEP co-pay and/or deductible. For more information, visit www.gileadcopay.com or call 1-877-505-6986. Enrollees will have to answer a few questions to confirm eligibility, restrictions apply*. The Gilead Co-pay Coupon Card covers up to $300 per month in co-pay, deductible, or other out of pocket costs from many insurance plans and the card is free.

*Terms and Conditions

• For U.S. or Puerto Rico residents only: must be filled by a pharmacy in the U.S. or Puerto Rico.
• The card is limited to one per person and is not transferable. Individual does not have to be a documented resident.
• The card can be used for up to 12 co-pays within 12 months for the length of enrollment but can be renewed yearly
• Card is not valid for prescriptions eligible to be reimbursed.
  • in whole or part, by Medicare, Medicaid, any other federal or state-funded healthcare benefit program.
  • by private plans or other health or pharmacy benefit programs, which reimburse you for the entire cost of your prescription drugs.
• The Gilead Co-Pay Coupon Card is not prescription drug coverage or insurance and is not intended to substitute for such coverage.
• Gilead Sciences, Inc. reserves the right to terminate or modify this card at any time without notice.

2- In addition to Gilead, you can apply for additional help with co-pays and out of pocket costs for Truvada® for PrEP if you have insurance by going through the Patient Access Network (PAN) Foundation* for up to $4,000 per year at http://www.panfoundation.org/hiv-treatment-and-prevention or call 1-866-316-PANF (7263).

*Eligibility Criteria:

• Patient should be insured and insurance must cover the medication for which patient seeks assistance.
• The patient needs to be HIV-negative and have a prescription for Truvada for PrEP.
• Patient must reside and receive treatment in the United States.
• Patient’s income must fall below 500% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL in 2015/2016 is about 11,700/yr for a single family home).

If you do NOT have insurance:

1- Gilead’s U.S. Medication Assistance Program might help you get Truvada at no cost. This program provides assistance to HIV negative individuals in the United States who do not have insurance or who need financial assistance. As part f this program, Gilead provides assistance for uninfected individuals who are eligible and who cannot afford to pay for Truvada for PrEP. To learn about this program, call 1-855-330-5479 or go to http://start.truvada.com/individual/truvadaprep-copay .